

BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT MANAGER-UMBRELLA SERVICES

Omnia Outsourcing is a modern, forward-thinking organisation where the right person will have an exciting chance to be involved in our success and continued growth. We are looking for an highly organised Business Development Manager that has a massive desire for success and growth.

Location- Northern England, home based.

Package- £30,000-£40,000 Basic, business mobile, laptop. After successful probation life insurance and discretionary bonuses.

Role

This role offers the individual the opportunity to work remotely across the North of England with loads of autonomy. You will be spending time with our existing clients and generating new business, you will be mentored by the best Sales Director in this industry.

Candidate

You will be representing Omnia as our lead Business Development Manager, an ambassador, highly professional but approachable and easy to communicate with, both internally and externally. Ideally you will have some sales experience but it not essential. We are looking for a positive attitude, great communication skills, willingness to learn and develop the business and yourself. Experience working in the Umbrella sector is highly advantageous.

The Package

Depending on experience £30,000-£40,000 with an excellent bonus scheme.

Send your CV to jay@omniaoutsourcing.com